Miscellaneous.

A Georgia editor has had his pistol stolen. He advises to give the thief the contents and ask no questions.

Beginning with George D. Prentiss, ten Long Island politicians have died within the last twelve months.

A gentleman who had passed the age of eighty was married to a fascinating Washington widow on Wednesday.

THE DEMOCRATIC "ROOSTER" IN LUZERNE.—One of the most remarkable results of the election in Pennsylvania is that of Luzerne County. Until recently, Luzerne was one of the strongholds of the Democracy, always regarded by them as sure for a Democratic majority of about 3,500, as Barks is 5,000 or 6,000. For instance, in 1862 Luzerne County gave 2,654 majority to Clymer over Geary, and in 1863 she gave Seymour 3,580 majority over Geary; but in 1865 astonished everybody by giving Tucker only 1,000 over Geary. This year she has added to that aatumon by giving 504 majority for L. D. Sheeemaker, the Republican candidate for Congress, and thus securing his election. Garrison M. Harding, Rep., is also elected County Judge over George W. Woodward, the present member of Congress for the Luzerne District. The two Republicans are elected to one Democratic seat.

A Chicago bridgeorum is reported to have recently given a clergyman a bonus check for thirty-six dollars, and received back thirty-two in good money.

The young men of Cincinnati are becoming greatly interested in the orphans since the uncle of a young and beautiful girl in the asylum has died and left her $30,000.

No one enjoys life so little as those who have nothing to live for. The only ones who have the right of life, who do not want to live it to labor, know not what it is to enjoy.

Forrando Wood has been nominated for Congress by the Young Democracy of the Ninth Congressional District of New York. He announces himself as ready to run under any nomination, except that of the Republicans.

At New Orleans, Monday, Mrs. Taffick died suddenly at a dentist's office after having only a tooth extracted. Her death is the supposed cause of death, induced by the nervous shock of the operation.

The Springfield, Illinois, Journal says: "A great many buildings are taken up in Fulton County; induced, probably, by the fact that premiums are to be given at the next county fair, two months hence, to first, second and third best looking birds, three months old."

Dr. Ray, the last editor of the Challenge, died at his home between Litchfield and Douglass, which was perhaps the most remarkable dissension in the political history of this generation, and which first brought Mr. Lincoln into national prominence.

A fortunate beggar, ninety-one years of age, who has been known for many years about the streets of St. Louis, has fallen into the Carthorse estate at Portland, Oregon, and is reported to be worth $500,000. The original owner of the property used to be known, among the troops as "Wrestling Joe."

Josiah Pettybone, in the New England Farmer, says that with the aid of his bumper, he is generally able to judge positively of the weather two days ahead. He knows of no invention for a farmer that will be as useful, in proportion to amount, as a barometer.

HARPER'S WEEKLY

at Howes'.

ANSWERED.—Putnam's Magazine is now more. It is absorbed in the new Scribner's Monthly. It did with a good record. It did its "level best." It paid its contributors fully. It was distanced by its more spicy, pictorial, sensational contemporaries. The publishers have lost all the money they can to lose in elevating the public taste. But we are glad to know it is not their "bottom dollar." Their accounts stand:

Dr. Ray could paid contributors $100,000.

By profit on out of $100,000—$6,000.

By balance—$1.

THE SPRINGFIELD HERALD.

Thursday, Oct. 20, 1870.

COMING.—Miss Olivia Rand and her Comedy Company, will appear here on Saturday evening next. See advertisement.

THE N. Y. Ledger says that No. 11 of its series of Twelve Articles by Twelve Distinguished Senators of the United States is by the Hon. Simon Cameron of Pennsylvania. It is a history of the Internal Improvements of this State, and is curious, instructive, and witty. It will appear in the Ledger of the date of October 23rd.

THE CREEK R. R. AND THE TITUSVILLE REFINING INTEREST.—In order to afford facilities for the increasing and prospective demand for oil for the Titusville refining interest, the Oil Creek and Allegheny River Railway Company have ordered a large number of boiler tank cars, and have reduced the local rate on oil from all points to Titusville to fifteen (15) cents per barrel, to take effect to-morrow.

WEST END MARKET.—People who walk down Perry street every morning, or indeed at any time, cannot but be attracted by the fine display at Stevenson's West End Market. The fine fat carcasses of beef, lamb, mutton, pork, poultry, etc., are suggestive of good things too numerous to mention, and make an appetizing spectacle. Stevenson is rapidly extending the list of his customers, and winning golden opinions for his professional enterprise.

JERSEY SAUSAGE.—A wagon load of young dogs, fresh from the country, was one of the features of the market stand yesterday, and from the crowd that surrounded the vehicle we should quote the sausage market lively.

There were brindle pups, speckled and one whose

"Mouth, his size, his hair, his legs."

Showed was none of Oil Creek's dogs. But what's there for a lamb?

Where's a lamb to go for seed?"

Honest Jack was trying to let off, but the dogman wanted another snake.

JOHN OWENS LAST NIGHT.—Notwithstanding the weather, which would have had the effect to thin the audience of almost any other entertainment held in our city, Corinthian Hall was crowded with an assemblage last evening, surpassing if possible in brilliancy and numbers, that of the preceding night. The play of "Solon Sings" needs no elaborate induction. It is in this that Mr. Owens has acquired his high reputation, for his eccentric facial transitions, his inimitable Yankee humor, and his wonderful physical character, placed him at the head of all living comedians. The concluding comedy of the "Live-Indian" was rendered effectively by the company, and in this piece the versatility of Owens is displayed to great advantage, as he sustains there different characters, at total variance with each other and requiring a peculiar combination of talents. To-night witnesses the close of the engagement, and an attractive bill is offered.

Mr. Ira Wilson petitioned the Council for permission to erect a frame building on south side Cherry Alley between Washington and Franklin streets.

On motion of Wm. Lowrie, seconded by J. S. Lowry and J. Cadwallader were designated as such committee.

Mr.

Titusville Morning Herald.

HUSKING.
The yellow sun of autumn fall
Across the orchard and the wood;
The vine line painted on the wall,
And all the maples dip with blood.
The neighbors come from far and near,
And gather on the board room floor.
To sing and dance and eat and drink,
And stamp the husk from off the ear.
That's music to a M. the farmer's son.
This is the mucky husking time;
And when the sun goes down together;
And we all sit down to chime,
As if they had set to rhyme.
On purpose for this autumn weather.
The old folks come—and work and smile,
To see the young ones have a time;
The young ones—well, they're not bad;
The younger feed the yellow pines,
Hunting the red ones all the while,
And birds and bats have a word.
The golden corn that makes this play—
Two dropped as soon as in early May;
And in the blazing August day
It ripened for the ensuing year.

True, for a ride the birds to plow,
And the old ones to the plow field;
This better fun to be here now,
And laugh and chime as finding how.
The corn has brought a glorious yield.
Bring in fresh basketfuls of ears,
And the old ones to the plow field;
Pish on the hush—have no fears,
But corn will grow there many years,
As corn has always grown before.

Some FEATURES OF A JEWISH SABBATH.—Let us accompany a good orthodox Jewish family through their calm and cheerful Sabbath, and see how they keep it. The Sabbath is a day of rest for the family instead of a "Reformed," merely because the orthodox Jew is an historical person; as he keeps his Sabbath, his fathers have kept it for many centuries. The Jewish Sabbath begins on Friday evening, half an hour before sunset, and ends on Saturday evening. The Sabbath is a day of rest, when all the work in the house that their wives and children may have something delicious to eat on the Sabbath. But that savory food must be cooked or prepared for before the Sabbath begins for our Israelitish brethren observe with just strictness the law which gives rest on the Day of Rest, the Sabbath. The Sabbath is a day of particular. They will not even wear their hats on the Sabbath. On Sunday, about 12 m., you may see in front of Dr. Adams' fashionable Presbyterian church in Madison Square, New York, or around Dr. Tyng's fashionable Presbyterian church in St. George's, the Sabbath day, when all from 10 to 40, well-appointed families, waiting for the last hymn to be finished; but you will never see a vehicle before the superb Temple Emmanuel, a Jewish synagogue in the 5th avenue, although there are many families within who could ride home. I do not know, in these poor carriages, if they are not the Christians who are wrong or the Jews right in this. It is not one's business but their own.—But if we borrow the Hebrew's word "Sabbath," and adopt verbally, their Sabbath law, our practice perhaps ought to conform in some degree to our profession. It probably does not severely tax those connected with footmen to call off their gay turnabout and brilliant livrées for a fine Sunday morning in the 5th avenue. But for the heavily laden drudges of the boarding house, and the maid-of-all-work, in average families, I could wish we were all Jews from Saturday night to Monday morning. It is a dastardly shame to think that we, who were once fairly, "tailed for us from Monday's tub to Saturday's scrub, to work hard all through the best hours of Sunday merely that we may gorge ourselves with dainty food. The Jews avoid all this barbarous inanition. Their servants rest on their Sabbath. Their portion in the Atlantic Monthly for October.
